

BOSTON AMERICANS TAKE FIFTH GAME AND SERIES

5,000 TAKEN
BY ITALIANS
IN NEW DRIVE

Bombardment of Austrian Lines Began Tuesday Morning—Trieste is the Ultimate Object.

FIGHTING UNDER WAY
ON ROUMANIAN SOIL

Gen. Averesco is Placed in Charge of Army in Dobruja—Led in the Hungarian Invasion.

International News Service:
ROME, Oct. 12.—The new Italian drive with Trieste as its ultimate object, continues.

Italian troops southeast of Gorizia and east of Monfalcone are pounding away at the Austro-Hungarian lines with hundreds of guns, while in the lulls of the cannonade, the infantry sweep forward against the shattered trenches.

For two days Rome hourly awaited the results of the new offensive along the northern slopes of Carso plateau.

Reports from the front today state that the bombardment of the Austrian lines began last Thursday morning at 4 o'clock along a seven-mile front between the Vipacoxo river and Novavas. It was carried on without interruption until Tuesday, when the first grand assault was launched against Hill 208, east of Novavas.

On the first day of the attack 2,000 prisoners were taken and Hill No. 208 was captured. On Wednesday 3,000 more prisoners were captured.

The scene of this fighting is about nine miles from Trieste, which city is now within easy artillery range of the Italians.

TWO BATTLES ON.
LONDON, Oct. 12.—Fighting now is in progress on Rumanian soil at two points.

Gen. von Falkenhayn's Bavarians, who swept down the Alt valley and through Red Tower pass, are at grips with the army of Gen. Craiinescu, the Rumanian commander-in-chief.

In Dobruja province the Bulgar-German army under Field Marshal von Mackensen, is lunging against the Rumanian defenses on the Danube in an effort to cross.

The Rumanian forces in Dobruja have been put under command of Gen. Averesco, formerly minister of war. He was formerly in command in the north and it was he who led the Rumanian troops that invaded Hungary.

AUSTRIANS IN RAID.
VIENNA (via Berlin wireless), Oct. 12.—At the Italian base at Avallona in Albania, was bombed by Austro-Hungarian aviators on Tuesday night and much damage was done, it was officially announced today.

The admiralty gave out the following statement:
"One of our naval aeroplane squadrons on the night of Oct. 12, bombarded with good results military objects of the Italians at Monfalcone and Stauano. The same night a squadron attacked with the greatest success docks, hangars and ships at Avallona. Big fires were visible for a long time, and one oil tank was observed to be in flames. In spite of violent shelling all the aeroplanes returned safely."

ARTILLERY BUSY.
PARIS, Oct. 12.—Artillery duels on the Somme front in the Wever district (east of the Meuse river), were reported in the communiqué of the French war office today.

French and German guns were engaged against each other south of the Somme river all night. The night was comparatively calm on the balance of the front.

A squadron of French aeroplanes bombarded with good results the new railroad station of the Germans at Vigneulles.

CANDIDATE IS STRICKEN
Alabama Man is Forced to Give Up Speaking Tour.

ALBANY, Ala., Oct. 12.—Stricken while delivering campaign speech, Congressman Edward B. Almon of the eighth Alabama district, was last night taken to his hotel in a delirious condition. He is resting easy today, but will remain off the stump for the rest of the campaign.

Only Four Ships
Victims of Subs
Knight Reports

International News Service:
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The first official announcement was made today that the facts show that there was no steamer Kingston or Kingstonian sunk by a German submarine off Nantucket shoals Sunday. Rear Admiral Gieves, commanding the flotilla of 12 destroyers that has been searching for passengers and crew, reported to the navy department today evidence "that there was no Kingston or Kingstonian."

His report follows:
"Destroyers continued search until Tuesday night from Montauk point to Nantucket lightship. My personal belief is that all survivors are accounted for and that there was no Kingston or Kingstonian, and that the name 'Knudsen' was understood by Hale to be 'Kingston.' Destroyers have returned to port and discontinued search."

GREEK FLEET IS HELD BY ALLIES

French and British Sailors Are Placed on Ships—Dis-mantling First.

International News Service:
LONDON, Oct. 12.—The domination of Greece by the allies is now complete.

Greece has protested against the seizure of her navy on Wednesday afternoon, but it is believed that no formal reply will be returned.

King Constantine's government is receiving scant recognition from the allied powers.

Vice Admiral D'Artigue du Fournet, commander of the Anglo-French fleet in the Mediterranean, has assumed command of the Greek warships and has retained all the crews with French and British seamen.

The guns on the cruiser Averoff and the battleships Lemnos and Kilkis, which the Greek government was allowed to retain, have been dismantled.

The work of reducing the forts on the Greek coast is now under way by French and British sailors.

The allies also have taken over the railway line between Piraeus and Larissa, the main railroad in Greece, and have placed it under military control.

England and France, it is believed, will formally recognize the revolutionary government headed by M. Venizelos and give it material support.

Some of the Greek warships seized by the allies have been taken to Saloniki and are being turned over to the revolutionary government.

A dispatch to the Chronicle from Athens today states that the seizure of the navy caused little excitement and that there were no incidents when the French admiral assumed command of the ships.

The allies' ultimatum to Greece, which resulted in the seizure of the navy, had been presented by Admiral D'Artigue du Fournet. Its acceptance by Greece not only gives the allies control of the navy, the coast forts and the railways, but also the national military police.

REICHSTAG UNABLE TO AGREE ON SUBMARINES

Matter Will Not Be Discussed at Open Session Following Vote on Question.

International News Service:
BERLIN (via Sayville wireless), Oct. 12.—The budget committee of the reichstag, unable to reach an agreement on the submarine question, has voted 24 to four against a discussion of the subject in open session. This was stated in a written report read in the reichstag today by Maj. Ernst Bassermann, leader of the national liberals.

The decision of the budget committee not to discuss the submarine issue in the open debating sessions is significant since it averts the general debate which had been expected to make Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg the storm center. This much heralded debate had been looked for by the chancellor's opponents to bring about a change of policy in favor of "reckless" U-boat warfare.

SHIP IS SUNK.
LONDON, Oct. 12.—The sinking of the Norwegian steamer Dirk, of 750 tons, is reported by a Reuter dispatch from Christiania. The crew was saved.RAID ON COAST
INTENDED FOR OBJECT LESSON

Belief of Naval Experts That German Subs Have Returned to Home Base Accepted by Officials.

NO PROTEST IS FILED
BY ALLIED EMBASSIES

Chief Interest of This Country is What May Happen in Future—Department Seeking Details.

International News Service:
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Accepting the belief of the naval experts that the German submarines U-53 and U-61 have departed for their home base, Sec'y Lansing and his advisers today began compiling all possible data regarding their operations on this side of the Atlantic.

Until this is done no further action is to be taken.

The state department now is completely convinced that Sunday's raid off Nantucket was intended for an "object lesson."

That a suggestion is to be conveyed to Germany that this government hopes that submarine operations shall be limited to the other side of the ocean is considered certain. But it is unlikely that this suggestion will be made in the form of a moral note at present.

Sec'y Lansing and his advisers withheld all information regarding the note to Great Britain asking that her cruisers be withdrawn from American ports for months and it is entirely possible that similar action will be taken in the German case.

Officials frankly are puzzled over the silence of the British and French embassies. There has been no protest filed other than the "casual mention" of the presence of the submarine made by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, last Saturday when he was at the state department. Officials at the embassies refuse to discuss the situation other than to say that they are waiting instructions from their home governments.

FIFTY MILES OFF COAST.

State department officials point out that German submarine operations were at points more than 50 miles off the coast.

Because of this the United States will not concern itself with them. The chief interest now, it is stated, will be centered in what may happen in the future. And it is to get all of the facts possible properly compiled that the state department now must devote itself.

The neutrality board of which James Brown Scott of the Carnegie Peace Foundation is chairman, will cooperate with the state department in determining all of the facts.

Officials found grounds for hope that any new German submarine policy along more active grounds will be reported from Berlin that the position in the reichstag of Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg has been materially strengthened during the last few days.

HALF MILLION MORE
TROOPS ARE NEEDED

British Officials Believe Another Million For Army Can Be Secured.

International News Service:
LONDON, Oct. 12.—Between 500,000 and 600,000 more men will be required for the British army within the next six months.

That is the dictum put up to parliamentary leaders by the man power distribution board. One of the big problems facing the present session of parliament is to find more men for the army without working any special hardship in any quarter.

It is believed, members of parliament said today, that the government can raise 1,000,000 more men if necessary and this without extending conscription to Ireland. However, they said it would be necessary to take steps to stimulate recruiting in Ireland.

PLAN PROSECUTIONS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Wholesale criminal prosecutions of a number of individuals who are promoting land bank swindles are being planned by the federal farm loan board, that body announced today.

SHIPS ARE WARNED.

International News Service:
GALVESTON, Texas, Oct. 14.—It was reported here today in the highest official circles that the British government has warned all ships plying under the British flag to re-

WILSON ARRIVES
AT INDIANAPOLIS

Reception For Mrs. Wilson is Called Off When Train is 35 Minutes Late.

International News Service:
INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 12.—Pres't and Mrs. Wilson were greeted by a reception committee on which were both democrats and republicans when his special train arrived here about noon today.

Pres't Wilson is the honor guest on Highway day of the statehood centennial celebration.

Several thousand people viewed and cheered the president as he motored from the train to the Claypool hotel, where Gov. and Mrs. Halston entertained 100 guests at luncheon.

A committee of women had planned to entertain Mrs. Wilson before the luncheon at the University club, but because the president's train was 35 minutes late, the reception was cut short.

The president was greeted by crowds at little stations on his way to Indianapolis, several hundred children, a band and fire company turning out at Greenfield.

The president bowed to crowds, but did not make any speeches. His program for the day included a review of the centennial highway parade, in which 10,000 automobiles, carrying 50,000 people were to pass him.

He was to make a non-partisan address at the state fair grounds at 3 p. m. and address Indiana farmers at Tomlinson hall at 4:30 o'clock on the rural credits legislation of the last congress.

He will leave Indianapolis at 5:45 p. m. returning to Shadow Lawn.

WILL ASK REELECTION
Prosecutor Accused of Murder of Wife is Candidate.

International News Service:
ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 12.—The unusual spectacle of a man accused of wife murder mounting the political stump and campaigning for his own reelection by the British in the Exchange telegram says that Otto's death was officially announced in Berlin. Otto was deposed in 1912.

Former King Dead.
LONDON, Oct. 12.—Otto, former king of Bavaria, has died at Fuerstentrad castle, near Munich, says an Exchange Telegram dispatch from Copenhagen today. The Exchange telegram says that Otto's death was officially announced in Berlin. Otto was deposed in 1912.

To Shoot to Kill.
Three hundred private detectives from New York were stationed at the 22nd st. railroad station of the Central Railroad of New Jersey today to make possible the resumption of the service. Armed with rifles the detectives were ordered to shoot to kill the first unauthorized person stepping upon railroad property.

Adriatic Sails.
NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—In defiance of possible lurking submarines, the White Star liner Adriatic, the "queen of the munitions fleet" sailed for England today carrying 18,000 tons of war supplies.

Careful plans had been made for the Adriatic to dash through the danger zone.

Much Damage.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—American Consul Payne at St. Thomas, D. W. I., today reported to the state department that the hurricane that swept these islands did $2,000,000 damage, left two-thirds of the population without sufficient food or clothing, and destroyed one-third of the homes of the natives. He appealed for $50,000 for immediate relief work.

Woman Killed, 20 Men Hurt During Riots.
Firemen at Bayonne, N. J., Have Busy Night—Are Attacked by Strikers While Fighting Flames.

International News Service:
BAYONNE, N. J., Oct. 12.—A fireman was shot today during an outburst of fighting in the Tidewater Oil strike, bringing the total of wounded to more than a score in the past 24 hours.

The police learned that the strikers secured 50 revolvers and ammunition during the night and it was said that an attempt at disarmament would be made this afternoon. This was expected to lead to more street fighting.

Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 12.—After a night of unprecedented terror, the strike situation early today was comparatively calm. New battles between the entrenched police and the striking Standard Oil employees are feared, however. If more clashes occur, the New Jersey militia may be called out to restore order.

As the day dawned the crack of rifles that had been heard throughout the night ceased. A woman killed and 20 men wounded in battles between mob and police were the toll of the night of violence. Incendiary fires in various parts of the town added to the reign of terror.

In five hours the firemen answered no less than 27 alarms. Near the headquarters of the strikers, flames leaped heavenward giving a ghastly illumination to the streets. Firemen trying to extinguish the flames were attacked by the infuriated strikers who bombarded them with stones and cut the hose.

Mrs. Sophie Porack, 26 years old, a bride of three weeks, was killed while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed. Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

WOMAN KILLED,
20 MEN HURT
DURING RIOTS

Firemen at Bayonne, N. J., Have Busy Night—Are Attacked by Strikers While Fighting Flames.

MILITIA MAY BE CALLED OUT TO RESTORE ORDER

Saloon is Set on Fire and Proprietor, Wife and Children Are Rescued by Flying Squadron.

International News Service:
BAYONNE, N. J., Oct. 12.—A fireman was shot today during an outburst of fighting in the Tidewater Oil strike, bringing the total of wounded to more than a score in the past 24 hours.

The police learned that the strikers secured 50 revolvers and ammunition during the night and it was said that an attempt at disarmament would be made this afternoon. This was expected to lead to more street fighting.

Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 12.—After a night of unprecedented terror, the strike situation early today was comparatively calm. New battles between the entrenched police and the striking Standard Oil employees are feared, however. If more clashes occur, the New Jersey militia may be called out to restore order.

As the day dawned the crack of rifles that had been heard throughout the night ceased. A woman killed and 20 men wounded in battles between mob and police were the toll of the night of violence. Incendiary fires in various parts of the town added to the reign of terror.

In five hours the firemen answered no less than 27 alarms. Near the headquarters of the strikers, flames leaped heavenward giving a ghastly illumination to the streets. Firemen trying to extinguish the flames were attacked by the infuriated strikers who bombarded them with stones and cut the hose.

Mrs. Sophie Porack, 26 years old, a bride of three weeks, was killed while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed. Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Late last night a strong column of strikers stormed the house of Samuel Greenburg, a schoolkeeper and, while looking from a window at a furious battle raging in the glare of a burning railroad shed, Policemen came to the aid of the firemen and bullets began to fly, one of them causing Mrs. Porack's death.

Score By Innings

B'kl'n 010 000 000—1 3 3
SOX 012 000 00x—4 7 2

Play by Play

First Inning.
Brooklyn—Myers stood by and saw three strikes that over the plate. Daubert fouled two and took two balls before he went out. Cady to Hoblitzel. Stengel let two balls go by and was safe when Scott made a poor throw to first. Wheat let a wide one go by and then flew to Hoblitzel. No runs, no hits, one error, one left on base.

Boston—Hooper took a strike, fouled one and then ran to count up to three and two before he grounded out. Cutchaw to Daubert. Janviri fouled one and took a ball and then went out. Mowery to Daubert. Shorten hit the third ball, the first over the plate, for a fly to Wheat. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left on base.

Second Inning.
Brooklyn—Cutchaw stroled on four straight balls. Mowery sent him to second on a sacrifice. Hoblitzel to Shorten. Olson grounded out. Gardner to Hoblitzel. Cutchaw going to third. Cutchaw scored when Cady had a passed ball. Meyers took a strike and a ball and then grounded out. Scott to Hoblitzel. One run, no hits, no errors, none left on base.

Boston—Hoblitzel run the count up to two and three and then grounded to Pfeffer. Lewis missed two swings and let a ball go by before he crashed the ball down the left field foul line. It bounded over Wheat's head and went for a triple. Gardner flew to Meyers and Lewis caught. Scott fouled three balls. Mowery helping him by dropping a foul fly. He then sent up a short fly in front of the plate which Meyers trapped. One run, one hit, one error, none left on base.

Third Inning.
Brooklyn—Pfeffer fouled one and then missed two swings in four balls pitched. Meyers drove the first ball to Gardner and was tossed out at first. Daubert went down. Scott to Hoblitzel. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left on base.

Boston—Cady drove the first ball pitched to right for a single. Shore fouled one and took a ball before popping out to Meyers. Hooper walked on four balls pitched. Janviri drove to Olson, who fumbled the ball and then threw wide to catch Hooper at second. Cady scored. Hooper went to third, and Janviri was safe at first. Janviri went out, trying to steal second. Meyers to Olson. Shorten took a strike and fouled one. The next two were balls. He then singled to center and Hooper scored. The count was two and two on Hoblitzel when Shorten went out stealing. Meyers to Olson. Two runs, two hits, two errors, none left on bases.

Fourth Inning.
Brooklyn—Stengel went out on a fly to Shorten. Wheat fanned on four pitched balls. Cutchaw took a strike and a ball and then grounded out Shore to Hoblitzel. No runs, no errors, none left on base.

Boston—Hoblitzel was passed on four straight balls. Lewis sent him to second on a sacrifice. Daubert to Cutchaw. Gardner took a ball and fouled one before grounding out Cutchaw to Daubert. Hoblitzel went to third. Scott let a strike go by and then went out Olson to Daubert. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left on base.

Fifth Inning.
Brooklyn—Mowery took a strike and missed, then waited for two balls. He went out, Gardner to Hoblitzel. Olson fouled three and took two balls before going out on a fly to Shorten. Meyers hit the second and ball pitched for a single. Pfeffer grounded out before grounding to Hoblitzel. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left on base.

Boston—Cady went out, Olson to Daubert. Wheat made a great running catch of Shore's drive. Hooper hit the first ball pitched to right for a single. Janviri doubled, and Hooper scored. Janviri went to third on a wild pitch. Shorten fanned. Olson no errors, two left on base, two hits.

Sixth Inning.
Brooklyn—Myers went out on a fly to Shorten. Daubert grounded to Gardner and was tossed out at first. Stengel fouled a couple before he lifted a fly to Scott at short. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left on base.

Boston—Hoblitzel let two strikes go by and then waited for three balls. He went out on a grounder to Daubert, unassisted. Lewis took a ball and fouled one before singling to left. Gardner forced Lewis at second. Olson to Cutchaw. Gardner went to second on a wild pitch. Scott drove the first ball toward left field, but Mowery picked it up and beat him to first with the throw. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left on base.

Seventh Inning.
Brooklyn—Wheat went out on a fly to Hooper on the first ball pitched. Cutchaw let a strike go by and then grounded out, Shore to Hoblitzel.

R H E

B'kl'n 010 000 000—1 3 3
SOX 012 000 00x—4 7 2

The Line-up

RED SOX—
Hooper, rf.
Janviri, 2b.
Shorten, cf.
Hoblitzel, 1b.
Lewis, lf.
Gardner, 2b.
Scott, ss.
Cady, c.
Shore, p.

DODGERS—
H. Myers, cf.
Daubert, 1b.
Stengel, rf.
Wheat, lf.
Cutchaw, 2b.
Mowery, 2b.
Olson, ss.
Meyers, c.
Pfeffer, p.

Empires—Connolly at the plate; O'Day on bases; Quigley, left foul line; Dineen, right foul line.

z. Mowery singled to left. Olson bounded to Scott who fumbled and then threw wild to first. Mowery went to third and Olson to second. Meyers ended the inning by going out, Scott to Hoblitzel. No runs, one hit, one error, two left on base.

Boston—Cady let a strike go by and then sent a foul fly to Mowery. Shore fouled two and let a ball go by before fanning. Hooper drove the first ball to Cutchaw, who tossed to first for the out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left on base.

Eighth Inning.
Merkle, batting for Pfeffer. Ball one, low. Merkle out on a fly to Lewis. It was a sensational catch. Meyers up. He popped out to Shore, trying to hunt. Daubert up. Strike one called. Ball one, low and wide. Strike two, four. Daubert out, Scott to Hoblitzel. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left on base.

Boston—Dell now pitching for Brooklyn. Janviri singled to left on the first ball pitched. Shorten up. Ball, low. Ball two, low. Strike one, called. Shorten out on a sacrifice. Mowery to Daubert. Janviri went to second. Hoblitzel up. Strike one, foul. Ball one, wide. Strike two, missed. Ball two, low. Foul. Ball three, low. Hoblitzel out on a fly to Wheat. Lewis up. Ball one, low. Ball two, high. Strike one, called. Strike two, missed. Lewis up. Strike one, called. Mowery out on a fly to Scott. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left on base.

Ninth Inning.
Brooklyn—Stengel up. Strike one, foul. Stengel singled to left. Wheat up. Strike one, called. Strike two, called. Ball one, low. Strike three, Wheat fanned. Cutchaw out, Janviri to Hoblitzel. Stengel went to second. Strike one, called. Mowery out on a fly to Scott. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left on base.

THE BOX SCORE
Brooklyn AB R H PO A E
H. Myers, cf. 4 0 0 2 0 0
Daubert, 1b. 4 0 0 10 1 0
Stengel, rf. 4 0 1 0 0 0
Wheat, lf. 4 0 0 4 0 0
Cutchaw, 2b. 3 1 0 2 3 0
Mowery, 2b. 3 0